

THE ROAD THAT BUILT THE NATION

CARROLL COUNTY

Directions

- » MD 144 takes you through Lisbon and on to a right turn on MD 27, or Ridge Road.
- » Go under the I-70 bridge into Mount Airy, which developed as a business center along a ridge and the paths of the B&O Railroad and the turnpike. The railroad, which followed the turnpike from Baltimore, turns south here -- on Parr's Ridge -- and gradually descends to the Potomac River at Point of Rocks.
- » Turn left on Main Street and then, left again on Ridgeville Boulevard.
- » Leaving Mount Airy, follow Ridgeville Boulevard, MD 144, which is known here as the Old National Pike.
